Total value locked

Idle showed an average TVL of $ 28,130,040 during the first mandate of 2024. The funds were mainly deposited into the Yield Tranches, with $ 18,977,130 (67%), while the Best Yield vaults showed a liquidity of $ 9,152,910 (33%). Overall, the TVL, with a $37m peak, slightly decreased by ~7% during the mandate with respect to M4-2023.

Fees

$140k | ₩48

Total fees collected increased by 17% with respect to M4-2023, mainly driven by liquidity growth on L2s. The majority of the fees were generated by Yield Tranches on mainnet in the USDT and DAI pools.

The Best Yield vaults on DAI, USDC and USDT generated ~34% of the total fees, while Yield Tranches' fees accounted for ~66% of the M1 inflow.

Ethereum vaults' fees accounted for 61% of the total fees collected, while Optimism and Polygon zkEVM for 4% and 35% respectively.

Income statement

The first mandate of 2024 showed a stable TVL and an increase in the fees collected. The liquidity deposited in the Idle vaults was mainly distributed among Ethereum and Optimism, with the latter showing a significant increase. Fees grown mainly driven by high yield strategies tranches by YTs.

DAO Leagues released new vaults on mainnet on top of Morpho, curated by Steakhouse and Block Analitica and another one on top of the USDe Ethena market. A new credit lending vault was launched on Optimism with Bastion Trading.

The expenses of the mandate were reduced showing a net profit for two out of three months of the quarter. Incentives for IDLE AMM pools were reduced following a new tokenomics plan. The tools and services subscription costs previously covered by Idle Labs were fully migrated to the DAO Leagues.
